JONESBORO ARKANSAS DREAMS BECOME REALITY;

WORK BEGINS ON STUDENT UNION

AND LIBRARY Soon the old wigwam will be a thing of the past — a pleasant memory to be treasured with other things of history. The usually crowded library will give way to an ultra modern structure with countless volumes of books and ample study areas. A new group of students will enroll at Arkansas State to enjoy the progress that has been made and to themselves accept the challenge of helping a college become a university.

Mark HARZ

Shown here is the architect's drawing of the new Student Union Building now under construction on the site where the old Barnhart and Lewis Hall dormitories stood not long ago. This frontal view will be seen from the Administration Building, which is directly opposite, across Aggie Road.

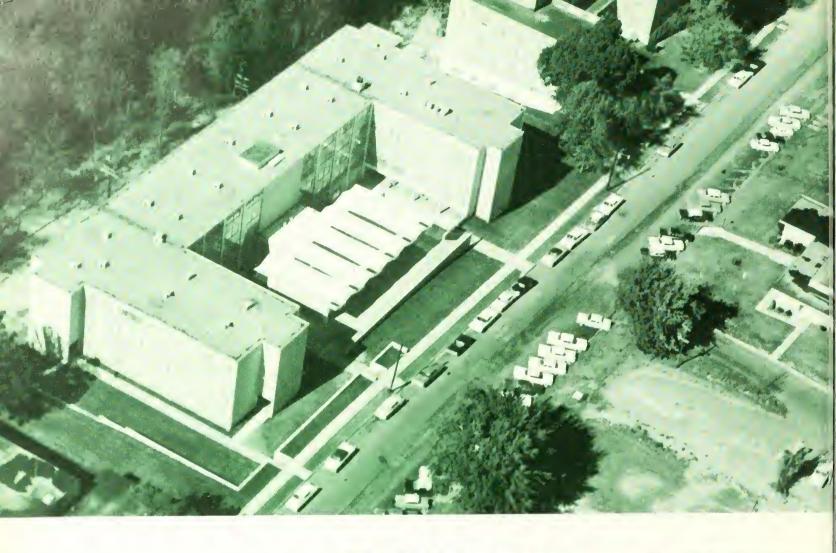

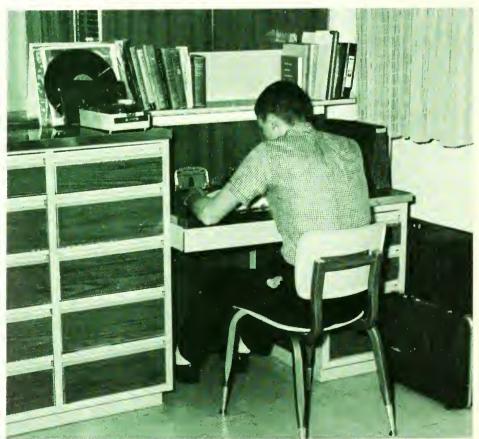

Pictured above is Arkansas State's new million-dollar library building now being completed. This view is as it will be seen from the rear of the Administration Building. Construction of the greatly needed facility was begun in early fall of 1962, and when finished, it will be one of the finest and best equipped libraries around.

This rear view of the Student Union Building will be seen from the North. The massive building will house a bowling alley, barber shop, cafeteria, snack bar, and myriad recreation facilities as well as offices for student government, publications, and many others.

A monument to progressive planning, University Hall dwarfs surrounding buildings in this aerial photo taken high above the campus.

Taking advantage of the excellent facilities in these modern rooms, this student enjoys a comfortable and quiet study session in Arkansas Hall.

UNIVERSITY AND ARKANSAS HALLS ARE COMPLETED

Two new and modern "homes away from home" make campus living more than enjoyable for the residents.

Each dormitory has a spacious lounge containing furnishings for relaxation and recreation, as well as a modern office equipped with the latest type of intercommunications system connecting each room. Private phones are also available to those who desire them.

The beautiful campus of Arkansas State as it is today. Many new additions will appear within the next few years.

ARKANSAS STATE;

THE SCHOOL OF OPPORTUNITY IN THE LAND OPPORTUNITY

Growth in enrollment, faculty, and the physical plant is characteristic of Arkansas State in recent years. Continuing to expand, we now look toward the future.

Shakespeare was presented this year for the first time on the A-State campus. Mr. Tom Evans designed this unique setting for Comedy of Errors.

The several dance bands on campus provide readily-secured entertainment for dances and talent shows.

During the warm days of spring, the lake at Walcott lures students away from the campus.

RECREATION AND ENTERTAINMENT FOUND BOTH ON AND OFF THE CAMPUS

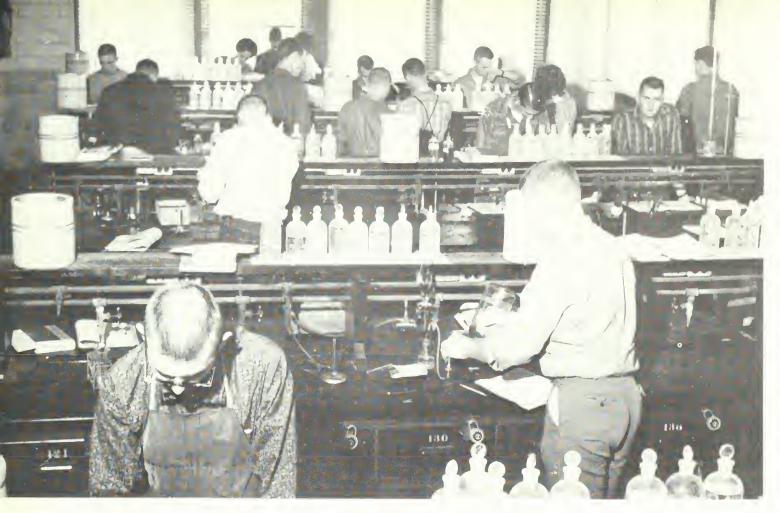

Dramatics, Music, Swimming, and the Freshman Reception are all activities which help round out student life at A-State. The Redskin Ramblers, one of A-State's many musical groups, rehearse a song and the cast of "Comedy of Errors," the year's first dramatic presentation of State's first Shakespearian plan, go through the ordeal of last dress rehearsal. After attending the Freshman Reception, an annual affair, new students quickly find their way to Walcott State Park for picnics and swimming.

Sandra Daugherty pours punch at the Freshman Reception held during orientation week.

A-State students serve the community—this student from the Fine Arts Department wears a paper mache head in the Jonesboro Christmas Parade.

A-State students learn—chemistry students gain valuable knowledge from laboratory experimentation.

COLLEGE LIFE DEVELOPS THE PERSONALITY

College life should include recreation and service, as well as books and study.

If all of these elements are included, a student will graduate with a good education and a well-rounded personality.

A-State students entertain—the Acronauts perform during halftime at a basketball game.

A-State students play—men students form the traditional double line to cheer the Indian football team before a game.

SECTION ONE

FEATURES

THIS IS THE YEAR THAT everything was bigger and better than ever before. The freshman class was the largest in the history of the school. Homecoming displays were big and beautiful, and school spirit soared to new heights. The instructors cracked down and studying became no longer an extracurricular activity. Even the weather was spectacular—blistering in September, chilling in December. This is the year that we will never forget.

ELECTION TIME AND THE BATTLE FOR THE BALLOTS

This is election time—a time of free soda pop and a mad rush to catch the last minute voters; a time when your vote becomes the most precious thing you own and every candidate wants it to be used for his benefit.

Leavie Brickell campaigns for one of the votes that got him elected. Brickell is the first SGA president to serve under the new constitution passed last year.

The polling place, where some are anxious; others wait patiently for their turns at choosing a candidate.

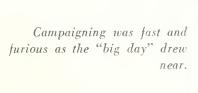

Some factions resorted to dances to lure the votes to their side.

Tireless campaigners wait tensely for the final tabulation of the votes to find out whether all their hard work had been in vain.

Meetings with the faculty and administration, wholesome recreation, good food, and serious discussion periods; all are a part of the annual Leadership Training Conference.

THE LEADERSHIP RETREAT; AN ATTACK UPON THE ISSUES

The Leadership Training Conference is unique. It is also successful. It began as an experiment and has developed into an annual affair. Held each May at Crowley's Ridge State Park, it is the bringing together of organizational presidents and other campus leaders. It is commonly known as the Leadership Retreat, but it is actually an attack—an attack upon the issues and problems facing Arkansas State College. The result is a victory for progress. It makes for a better informed student body, better qualified leaders, and it helps students to work out any difficulties and make their desires and suggestions known to the faculty and administration. Many of the students' suggestions have been followed with success. Arkansas State has no major problems among its students, and it is such things as the Leadership Conference that causes it to remain a strong institution.

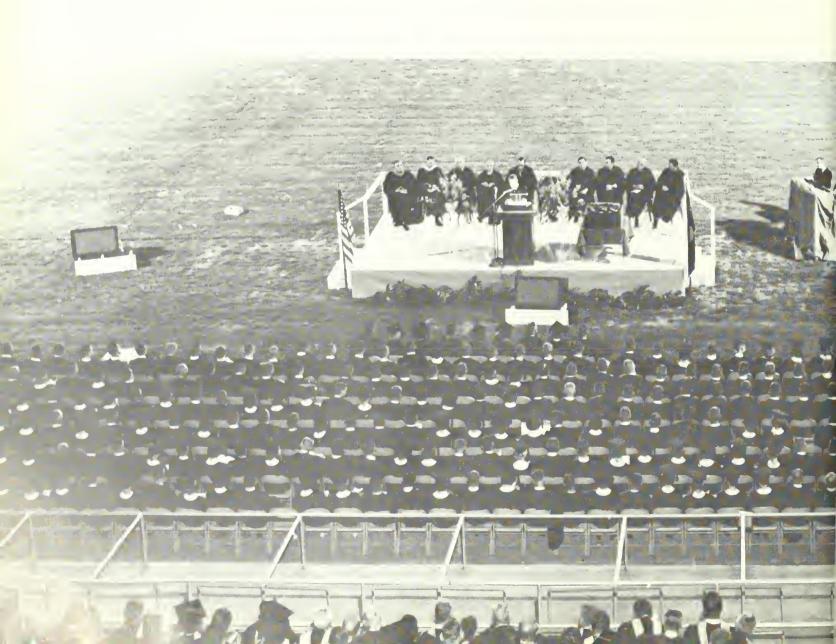

Dean Moore gives last minute instructions to the graduating seniors.

Seniors apprehensively wait for graduation exercises to begin.

ON A WARM NIGHT IN MAY A GOAL IS REACHED

Graduation came in May. Graduation—a time of fulfillment, a time of promise. The climax of four years of study, work, fun, and relaxation; four years of memories to be treasured forever. The end of one life and the beginning of another which will rest upon the firm foundation laid at Arkansas State College. The turning point in life—sixteen years have been spent in preparation, now the world lies ahead.

The big moment which climaxes four years of college—receiving a diploma.

For the students pictured on these pages, the night was a great one. They had rehearsed the actual graduation exercises, and had been issued their caps and gowns. Perhaps they felt a little strange in the long black garments, but what the gowns represented was the important thing, and when each student was handed his diploma, he realized that all the hours of worry and hard work had actually been worthwhile.

Graduating seniors and college officials in their graduation robes present an impressive spectacle.

Everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of the El Gardes at the annual Chamber of Commerce street dance for new students.

Members of the class of 1966 listen attentively as they are familiarized with the roles and obligations of a college student at Arkansas State.

Serving capably as orientation chairman this year was senior Mike Phillips.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION, THE TRANSITION FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Beanie sales reached an all-time high, netting money to be used for Student Government projects.

TO COLLEGE For the members of the elass of 1966, Orientation Week was a never-to-be-forgotten introduction to the type of life they will lead for the next four years. The dances on University Hall patio, the President's reception, assemblies in Wilson Hall, registration—all of these events were experienced by the newcomers for the first time. The largest freshman class in the history of Arkansas State College survived orientation week, and had begun to feel like fullfledged college students by the time the upperclassmen returned to the campus.

DORSEY ORCHESTRA HEADS FALL ENTERTAINMENT

Kicking off the fall entertainment schedule, the old Tommy Dorsey orchestra, now under the direction of Sam Donahue. presented a concert in the Arkansas State Field House. The orchestra's program, a mixture of modern jazz and the old tunes made popular in the 1940's, was enjoyed by both young and old jazz buffs. Sponsoring the program was the Student Government Assoication with Robert Harrelson and William Foster in charge.

Introducing the program was Leavie Brickell, president of the Student Government Association.

Miss Jeannie Thomas, female vocalist with the band, delighted the audience, especially the male compendium, with her sparkling renditions of age-old favorites, along with several contemporary arrangements.

Sam Donahue and Jeannie Thomas, featured attractions with the Dorsey orchestra pause to chat with Sonny Foster, ticket chairman, and Nich Wilson, who was in charge of the stage arrangements.

The strains of the Dorscy theme song, "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You," fill the A-State Field House in the same smooth trombone styling made popular by the late Tommy Dorsey.

HOMECOMING 1962

Working all night in the chilly air, pausing only for a moment to huddle around a wood fire, greeting the old grads, cheering for the Indians on a cold Saturday afternoon, the big date for the dance in the gym. You're bushed! But it was worth it all to have another successful Homecoming weekend—Homecoming 1962.

For five lovely young ladies, Frances Sanders, Carole Scholze, Earlaine Young, Nancy Snipes, and Bettye Dee Keith, the week held even greater meaning. They were selected as the 1962 Homecoming royalty. Of the five, the student body then chose Miss Keith as their Queen-for-a-day to reign over the colorful festivities.

Oueen Bettye Dee and her court are escorted by members of the Student Government Association.

A large crowd of fans was present for the tense and exciting Homecoming game.

Members of Alpha Omicron Pi work diligently on their huge rabbit "Harvey" which eventually won first place in a stationary division.

After the game and the traditional open-houses, students enjoyed themselves at the Homecoming dance in the Armory.

Student Government President Leavie Brickell escorted Queen Bettye Dee.

An exhibition of skill and daring preceded the game when sky divers parachuted to the field and presented the game ball.

Then came the moment, the official coronation ceremony.

Playing a big part in display construction is a relatively new art called napkin stuffing.

The work has begun, and soon a mass of table napkins, chicken wire, paper mache, lumber and paint will materialize into the prize-winning display.

HOURS OF TIRING WORK SPENT IN CONSTRUCTING A DISPLAY

Display chairmen for the winning organizations pose with the fruits of their efforts which were presented at the dance.

PAYS OFF

Building a Homecoming display requires many hours of labor, but it always pays off either in the joy of admiring the lovely finished product, winning a trophy, or both. This year the Sig Eps took first in the mechanical division with the Pikes and Cherokee Men coming in second and third. AOPi was the first-place winner in the stationary with lights division and Dixie Hall won second. First place in the stationary without lights competition was presented to the Physical Education Majors and Minors Club.

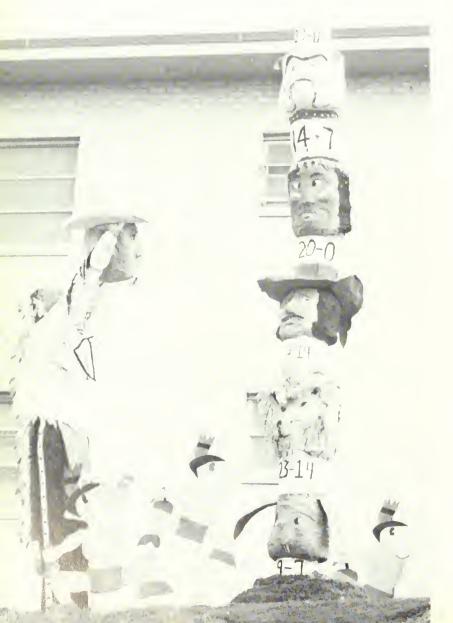

DISPLAYS, INDIAN BAND, AND A SPRAINED ANKLE

Pi Kappa Alpha won second in the mechanical division with this lifelike waterfall predicting the downfall of the Southerners.

Feature twirler Sandra Merguie leads the Marching Indian Band down the street toward the stadium.

The widely famed band turned in its usual sparkling performance at halftime with precision drill and delightful music.

Chief Big Track adds another victory head to the totem pole in this winning display by the girls of Dixie Hall.

Lambda Chi efforts were in vain when a light rain caused their lumber to buckle on their roller coaster track, halting any further progress of the coaster cars.

Neil Peevey, drum major of the Marching Indians, proved that you don't have to be in football togs to need attention from trainer Joe Bickford.

In a style much like the great Pete Fountain, Howard Dunn wails out one of the numbers that won third place for this band, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Phi Mu's entry was this trio composed of Linda Watson, Trudy Miles, and Judy McComb. The group sang a medley of popular songs which included a number entitled "Faith's a Funny Thing" that was written by Miss Miles.

Beaming with pride, the Lambda Chi Alpha quartet, "The Crescents," display their newly-won first-place trophy. Left to right, they are Randy Carmack, Pat Howe, Wendell Crow and Warren Dupwe. The winning songs were "Away With Rum," and "The Last Day of July."

Becky Kent, program chairman, and Sharron Craft, Alpha president, pose with second-place winner Eloise Hynes, who played and sang "Misty" and "My Own True Love."

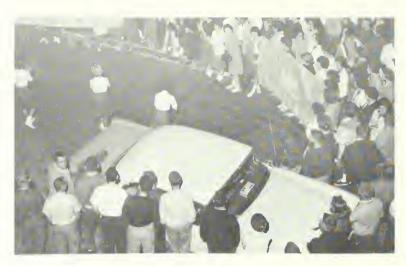

Tony Hess gives out with one of his rock-and-roll renditions accompanied by band and quartet. The group received honorable mention.

SCHOOL SPIRIT HIGH AS STUDENT BODY

Students turned out in force on Saturday mornings for parades from the campus to downtown Jonesboro in support of the team.

RALLIES FORTH TO BACK THE INDIANS

Friday night pep rallies in front of Indian Hall also were factors in this year's increase in spirit.

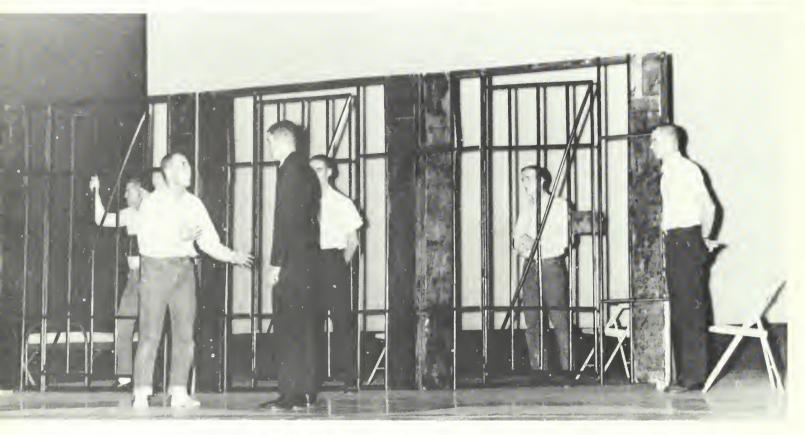

Chief Big Track, the Indian Princess and Brave, who in real life are Gary Potter, Louann Dishinger, and Jim Fowler, also were on hand for the parades downtown.

When the team returned from a road game, a large throng of students was always waiting to welcome them back to the campus.

AMATEUR DRAMATISTS VIE IN ANNUAL PHI MU PLAYHOUSE

A scene from "Afraid of the Dark" presented by Tau Kappa Epsilon. The play, a tense draina with a death row plot, was awarded first place honors. Members of the cast were Andy Morris, Cliff Goodin, Jerry Williams, Billy Earl Kieth, Darrell Collier, Bill Spell, and Fred Gingerich. Directing the play was Bruce French.

The benefit Phi Mu Playhouse was a success this year, as always. The five fraternities and four sororities on campus began work on their productions three weeks before the playhouse, and the result of the many hours of practice was a group of excellent plays, skillfully performed. The Tekes, with their performance of "Afraid of the Dark," by George E. Callahan, were awarded first place. Proceeds from the event went to St. Jude Hospital.

"The Monkey's Paw" was presented by actors and actresses from Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Omicron Pi.

Dancing was enjoyed by the large crowd to the music of the Tarantulas. 4-State's own national recording group.

ST. NICK DANCE HERALDS THE BEGINNING OF THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Associated Women Students spent many hours in preparation, hoping to make this year's St. Nick Dance the best one ever — and it was. Music for the dance was provided by the Tarantulas, a band composed largely of A-State students and graduates. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of St. Nick, who was elected from a group of six nominees by the members of AWS. Corky Ennis, of Walnut Ridge, received the honor this year, and his date, Patricia Sulcer of Palestine, was proclaimed Miss Merry Christmas.

AWS members worked diligently carrying out the theme. A Dream of Christmas.

The aftermath. Oh, well, back to the drawing board — let's dust off the launching pad and try again.

Miss Edith Chapman finds time to get in some knitting during one of the few lulls in registration.

After registration some students found the need to swap one or two classes before the deadline. Dean Hazelbaker explains the rules to a group of students.

The hardest job during the last two days of registration was to find a class open at the time you needed it. It would have been a real set-up for a class card scalper.

REGISTRATION BEGINS ANOTHER SEMESTER

The SGA bookstore was busier than ever after registration and Terry Ishmael seems ready to give up before he reaches the front of the line.

Freshmen eye the building suspiciously—upperclassmen knowingly, as all dread the mass confusion of registering for the coming term.

Diagonal lines, a difficult routine that requires precision and finesse on the part of every bandsman.

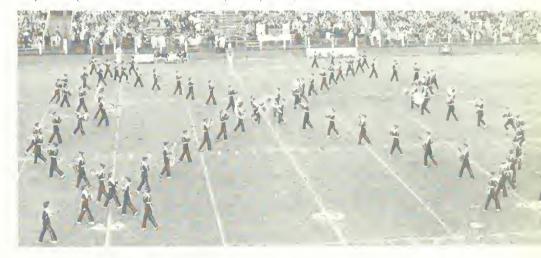

This is the Arkansas State Marching Indians. This is the band that was chosen over all others in Arkansas to represent the state in President Kennedy's inaugural parade. This is the band under Don Minx, nine years the director of bands at Arkansas State and the man with a reputation for leadership that overlaps state lines. This is the band with a concert sound, both on the field and on the stage. This is Arkansas State's band. This is the band with a sound — the number one sound in the South.

Responsible for the outstanding performances of the Marching Indians is Don Minx (center), director of bands at A-State for the past nine years, He and his capable assistants. Harold Worman (left) and Jan Seifert (right), have earned the respect of every band member.

The scrapbook is always an interesting topic of discussion at rush parties and helps to point out the outstanding activities and accomplishments of each Greek organization.

RUSH WEEK AT A-STATE

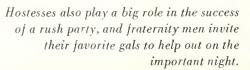

A good time is always had by both members and rushees, as evidenced at this sorority theme costume party. With such a strong Greek system as Arkansas State has, it is always a tough decision for a rushee to pick the group he or she wants to affiliate with.

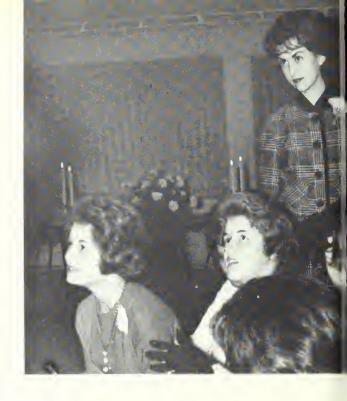

RUSH CONTINUES AS GREEKS PUT ON THE CHARM AND WOO THE FRESHMEN

Entertaining the rushees is a major part of a fraternity rush party.

Soon after the semester begins, sororities and fraternities on the A-State campus begin feverishly to prepare for Rush Week. Many hours are spent planning parties, menus, and entertainment for those freshmen and upperclassmen who will be deciding what group to affiliate with. The sorority women rack their brains to think of new ideas for the traditional costume parties, and for days before Rush Week, the sorority suites in University Hall ring with sounds of hammers and the squeak of magic markers as the girls decorate. The fraternities give only one party each for independent men, but they spend much time and thought trying to make these parties perfect. When the men's smorgasboard banquets and barbecue suppers and the women's costumes are finally completed, each Greek organization is ready to welcome the rushees. As the pictures on these pages indicate, the parties are filled with fun, food, and fellowship for rushees and Greeks alike. Finally bids are given out, pledges are welcomed, and decorations are taken down to be stored until Rush Week comes again.

The rush chairman watches to see that everyone has a good time and does his part for the success of the party.

MILITARY SCIENCE CADETS HOLD ANNUAL

Highlighting the band's performance were the renditions of Carol Knight, vocalist with the Buddy Morrow Orchestra.

BALL; MORROW ORCHESTRA PLAYS

With "Of Wine and Roses" for a theme, the music of Buddy Morrow's Orchestra for dancing, and the presentation of eleven lovely honorary cadets as the highlight of the evening, this year's Military Ball proved to be the best one ever held. Miss Sandra Merguie reigned over the Ball as the new honorary cadet colonel, chosen by the senior cadet officers. Red and white crepe paper streamers and panels, along with a flowing fountain, provided the background for ROTC cadets and their dates as they danced to the smooth music of the famous Buddy Morrow Orchestra on a "night to remember."

"STALAG 17" IS SUCCESSFUL SPRING DRAMA PRESENTATION

Among the three highly successful presentations of the Arkansas State Division of Theater was "Stalag 17," a story of life in a German prison camp during the latter days of World War II. The drama kept the near capacity crowds entertained from beginning to end during the three-night run. Much of the success was due to the hard work and ability of Mr. Tom Evans, who is in his first year as dramatics instructor at A-State. His realistic setting and costumes added to the sparkling performances of the 19-man cast, with Bill Henderson handling the lights with professional skill.

When he tries to sneak a bath in the barracks, Herb (Henry Haven) catches some good natured ribbing from Shapiro (Randy Allison), Duke (Charles Keller) and Stosh (Jerry Troxler).

After being exposed as a German spy, Price (Dick Longgrear) is tied and gagged by his barracks mates. Later he is thrown out into the yard to be machine-gunned by German guards who do not recognize him as one of their own.

BILL BELL AND THE TRIBE FEATURED IN JAZZ CONCERT

Bill Bell and the Tribe, an 18-member dance band composed of Arkansas State students and one of the most popular entertaining groups on the campus, presented its first public concert this year. Under the direction of Bill Bell, the band plays the type of music characterized by the big dance bands of this age and past generations, ranging from the swing era to the Bossa Nova. Members of the band are Tommy Fleeman, Paul McBride, Howard Dunn, Danny Ross, Tony Ellis, Tom O'Conner, Ed Ross, Jerry Pruett, Ned Ellis, Ken Riley, Clive Collins, Don Robbins, Frank Elrod, Mike Telker, Mike Overall, Charles Calhoun, and Bettye Holland, featured vocalist.

Allan Lehl of the music faculty, who did a superb job with the lead part of Figaro, sings one of his arias while Jerry Pruett as Count Almaviva waits for his next cue.

The role of Susanna, Figaro's fiance, was portrayed by soprano Eloise Hynes.

OPERA WORKSHOP PRESENTS "MARRIAGE OF FIGARO"

"The Marriage of Figaro," by W. A. Mozart, was presented on the A-State campus this year under the direction of David Niederbrach, instructor in music. Members of the cast were Alan Lehl, assistant professor of music, Eloise Hynes, Jerry Pruett, Becky Hickox, Mary Wade, Jackie Pruett, John Erwin, Ronald Williams, Howard Dunn, and Donna Baker. The work was skillfully presented in English with many parts which are normally sung reduced to spoken dialogue to add to the clarity of the entertaining comedy opera. Tom Evans, head of the Theatre department, and his assistants designed and constructed the scenery.

THE PHYSICAL PLANT-THE FELLOWS WHO KEEP ALL SYSTEMS A-OK

Possibly the least appreciated and hardest working group of individuals connected with A-State are the men of the Physical Plant. These men are responsible for the maintenance and replacement of all property that is owned by the college. Coming under their list of duties is the replacing of tires on school vehicles or the burned-out bulb in a dormitory washroom. No job is too large or small for these friendly fellows who keep Arkansas State's campus in tip-top shape.

Mr. Ralph C. Waddell, supt. of buildings and grounds, talks with his secretary, Mrs. Daphine Vermilye.

Construction beams are stacked (lower left), fittings for the school utilities are sorted and labled (upper left), bulbs and fixtures get a double-check (center), and cleaning supplies are organized for rapid location and disposal by Mr. L. B. Dame, janitor foreman. These are just a few of the tasks that confront the men of the physical plant.

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES BLEND VOICES IN ANNUAL

GREEK SONGFEST COMPETITION

Songfest 1963 was like many other songfests in the past, yet was different from all others. As always the sorority girls looked beautiful, the fraternity men handsome, and Wilson Auditorium was filled to capacity. But this year the sound was different in the Alpha Omicron Pi sponsored event. Each group had practiced three weeks on its entries, as the groups have always done in the past, but the songs were more beautifully done than ever before. The result was an evening of excellent entertainment for those in the audience, with music which ranged from hymns to folk songs.

MISS ARKANSAS STATE IS CHOSEN

Beauty, talent, and poise were the reigning factors for the night of the selection of Miss Arkansas State. Each of the 15 girls was a beauty in her own right, but only one could lay claim to the title of Miss ASC. This year's Circle K sponsored event was won by Sally Lynn Dennis of Caraway. Sally Lynn, sponsored by Chi Omega, took first place honors in the evening gown division. Linda Worley, the retiring Miss ASC crowned the new queen. Miss Eddye Addington of Arkansas State Teachers, Miss Arkansas for 1963, was in attendance at this year's contest. First alternate was Pat Warneke of Jonesboro, sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha. Pat Folks of Malden, Mo., sponsored by Alpha Omicron Pi and winner in the talent division, was chosen second alternate. Mary Haley of Miami, Fla, sponsored by PiKA and Marilyn Fulbright of Thayer, Mo., sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon with the top three finishers were the five finalists. Richard McCann of Pocahontas was master of ceremonies.

CAMPUS AND SCHOLASTIC LEADERS PRAISED FOR JOBS WELL-DONE

One-hundred and fifty-two students were honored at the fourth Annual President's Award Banquet this year. Among that number were 37 students with a perfect 4.0 grade point average. In order to receive an invitation to the banquet a student must make a 3.5 or better. Herbert McAdams, a Jonesboro businessman, was guest speaker at this year's feast. Dr. Reng presented awards to the honored students. Dean Moore was in charge of the program. Another group of elites on campus is the President's Roundtable which is composed of the presidents of all the organizations at A-State.

Herbert McAdams, prominent Jonesboro banker, addressed the scholastic leaders at the Awards Banquet.

Dr. Carl Reng present certificates to Tyler Swindle and Kathy Johnson, both of whom had perfect four point averages for the fall semester.

Organizational presidents listen attentively at the Presidents' Roundtable dinner in the Stateroom.

Speakers at the Presidents' Roundtable dinner commended the students for their leadership and accomplishment.

Robert Moore, dean of students, serves as advisor to the Presidents' Roundtable, an organization of presidents and other students in campus leadership positions.

SECTION TWO

ORGANIZATIONS

THIS IS THE YEAR THAT organizations on the ASC campus were more active than ever before. More people joined clubs, more parties were given, and more philanthropic work was done than in years past. From the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Science, the specialized clubs were hearing more speeches, seeing more films, and learning more about their major fields of study. The honoraries were stressing scholarship, and the service organizations were stressing work.

STATE COLLEGE HERALD, A PANORAMA OF COLLEGE LIFE

The State College HERALD mirrors on a small scale the productive methods of the press around the world. Written, managed, and printed entirely by journalism students and faculty, the HERALD functions doubly to give onthe-job training to the student staff and to serve as the conscience and mouthpiece of the student body. News is gathered from every area of campus life by hurried, harried reporters stuggling to meet the Monday morning deadline. Through editor and printer the news goes until the students see campus life spread before them each Friday in a four-page panorama of black and white. Each week, the efforts and ambitions of beginning journalists give birth to tangible evidence of journalistic talent and skill at college level—the State College HERALD.

1963 INDIAN STAFF

One warm night last May a trio of diehards got together and decided that the 1963 Indian would be different. Came the fall semester and the trio raked together a group of sympathizers, formed them into a staff and set about their task. To a certain degree it has been accomplished. The book may not show a great deal of improvements, but the changes are there. An attempt was made to record the year at Arkansas State as it happened and to create a volume that would give a favorable impression of the school, its activity, and its people. Now the work is done and the book is in your hands for inspection. We hope we have accomplished what we intended to do, and that this yearbook meets your expectations and approval. We hope we have recorded the memories that will be treasured by all who had a part in creating the story told in this volume of the 1963 Indian.

Pictured on these pages are the people who did the work of compiling the 1963 Indian. Each one willingly gave up his leisure time and devoted his efforts to the tremendous task. Their reward is the pleasure of having created a book to be proud of and your enjoyment and approval of the 1963 Indian, the yearbook of Arkansas State.

PRESIDENT'S ROUNDTABLE

The President's Roundtable serves as a communication device between leaders of organizations on the Arkansas State campus and the administration and student body. This student planning board has proved to be the most effective way of relaying information about various events and happenings on campus to all students.

The Counter Guerrilla Unit was formed this fall on the ASC campus. This unit is one of many sponsored on college campuses over the United States by the ROTC. At the weekly meetings the members concern themselves with field lessons and programs, actual field training, compass courses, and counter guerrilla tactics.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

The Social Science Club is composed of persons interested in any area of the social science field. Each month programs are centered around matters of current interest. The two major projects of the year were a contribution to the White Christmas program and a Christmas food basket to a private family.

The Music Educators National Conference is for students majoring in music. The purpose is to afford students opportunity for professional orientation and development while they are still in school, and to develop in the students a practical, realistic concept as to the function of the music education profession.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association is an organization open to all women students at ASC. Its primary function is to afford opportunities for participation in wholesome, competitive, recreational activities. The intramural program is conducted so that enjoyment, health, and sportsmanship will be gained by all participants.

The general conduct of intramurals is administered by the Intramural Board, composed of the elected WAA executive officers, appointed representatives of the participating groups, and faculty sponsors. Two of the main functions of the board are the selection of activities to be played and the scheduling of time of year and hour of play.

LEARNING AND SERVING-THE BROADCASTING SERVICE OF ARKANSAS STATE

Operating as a non-commercial, educational broadcasting station, KASU-FM provides entertainment, news, sports, and public service information to residents of Northeast Arkansas, Southeast Missouri, and surrounding areas. The station is college-owned and student operated and serves as a training facility for students majoring in the radio division of the Department of Journalism, Radio, and Printing. KASU is the originating station of the Indian Sports Network and other network programs of A-State athletic and special events. The director of broadcasting is Mr. Charles Rasberry, known and respected for his ability in the broadcasting field.

Heading up KASU's announcing crew is chief announcer Tommy Thompson. Thompson's voice is heard on the Indian Sports Network basketball broadcasts as he lends color to Mr Rasberry's exciting play-by-play.

Keeping a record of every minute of air time and making out the daily program log are among the duties of traffic director Carol Franz and her assistant, Paul Bond. It is their decision as to what is to be aired each day.

Taking on most of the announcing chores are staff announcers Jim Cathey. Don Brawley, Curt Hodges, and Jim Starnes.

GREEKS . . .

Governing the Greek organizations on the Arkansas State campus are the Panhellenic Council for sororities and the Interfraternity Council for fraternities. The operations and activities of these two councils are conducted in accord with the National Interfraternity and Panhellenic Council policies and procedures. The two groups endeavor to promote high scholarship, social, and moral standards and to better interfraternity relationships of all Greek organizations on the Arkansas State Campus.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL: Peggy Stroud, sponsor, Francis Farabee, Carol Verdict, Sara Snow, Nancy Couples, Nancy Yarbrough, Patsy Wilson, Sharon Craft, Charlotte Haynes, Bettye Dee Deith, Jane Appleton, Janna Helms, Sue Clark.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL: Standing—Mike Bridger, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Terry Butler, Sigma Pi.; Don Reaves, Pi Kappa Alpha; Nick Wilson, Lambda Chi Alpha; and Butch Corbett, Sigma Phi Epsilon. Seated—Robert Moore, dean of students.

Greek organizations at Arkansas State place a high emphasis upon scholarship and both Panhellenic and the IFC give scholarship trophies.

Friendly competition is a feature of the Arkansas State Greek system, which is one of the most successful anywhere.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

EPSILON ZETA CHAPTER

Alpha Gamma Delta has again scored a successful year at ASC.

Miss ASC, Linda Worley, who automatically became sweetheart of Circle K, was an Alpha Gam. She was sponsored in the Miss Arkansas contest in Hot Springs.

Alpha Gamma Delta has many girls active on campus. Mary Jane Morrow and Linda Thorne are cheerleaders. Bettye Bowling, Mickey Graham, and Berta Danehower are S.G.A. representatives while Sandy Daugherty and Sharon Craft are Senators. Donna Lynch received the R. E. Lee Wilson award last year. Susie Reese,

Mary Ellen Green Mary Jane Droke
Rush Chairmen

Cathy Moore, and Becky Hickox are ASC Singers. Joyce Watson, Glenda Daniel, Norah Plunkett, Marion Marcum, and Sandy Dougherty are in FWHSO.

The Alpha Gam's local altruistic project is working with physically and mentally handicapped children. Nationally, Alpha Gams contribute to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Proceeds from the Annual Talent Show go to these projects.

Alpha Gams are always busy in the spring with the Anniversary Ball, International Reunion Day, Parent's Day, and spring picnics.

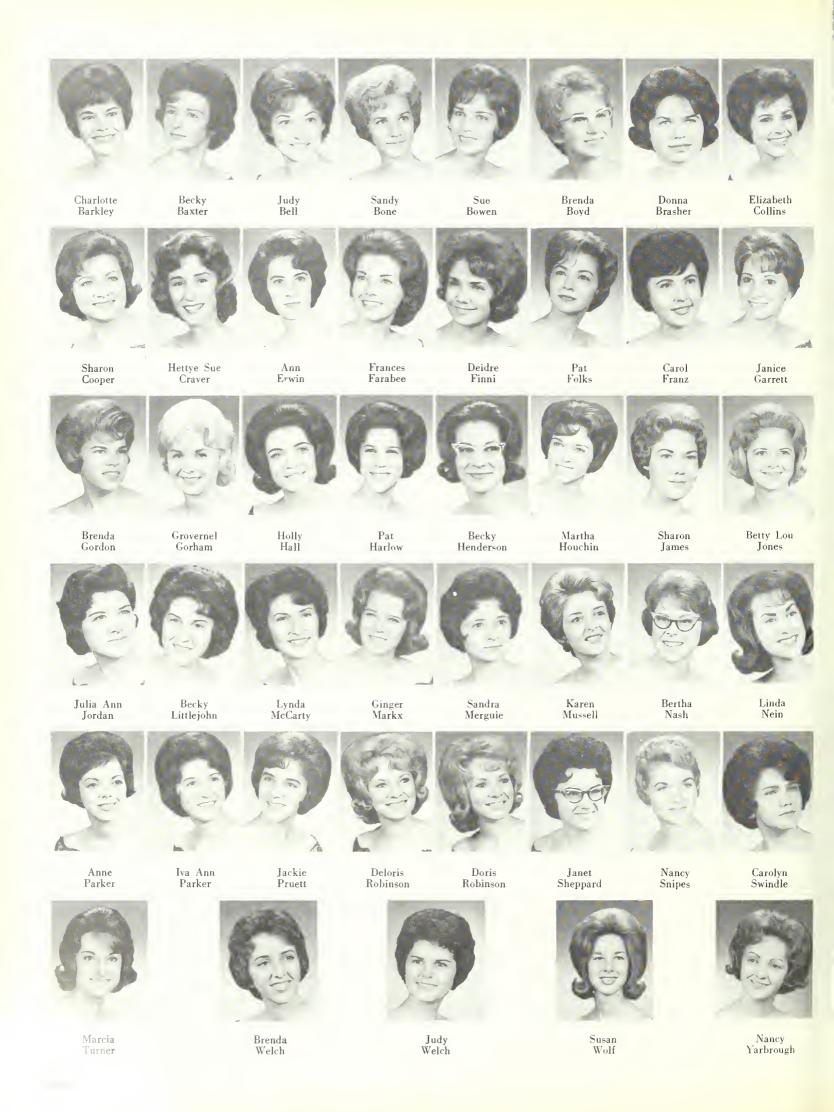

Last year Alpha Gam won first place in the LXA "Little 500", and first place in the Sigma Pi Softball Tournament.

As one of their service projects this year, members and pledges of Alpha Gamma Delta helped in the Heart Fund campaign.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

SIGMA OMICRON CHAPTER

From beauty queens to brains, from athletes to artists, Alpha Omicron Pi is composed of 49 talented and varied members and pledges. The letters "AOPi" are synonomous with "first in everything" on the campus.

Top honors began with the award winnig Homecoming display of overgrown "Harvey" rabbit and continued to the Homecoming Court, where three AOPi's reigned.

Taking the honors bestowed on them by the ROTC boys are Honorary Cadet Colonel Hettye Sue Craver, three Honorary Cadets, and the Scabbard and Blade Sweetheart. TKE Fraternity chose AOPi past president Charlotte Haynes as their Sweetheart, and Frances Sanders was chosen as LXA Crescent Girl.

Leading the cheers for the Indians are three AOPi's. Sandra Merguie is feature twirler for the Marching Indian Band, and three more AOPi's grace the majorette line.

Although AOPi has been classified as a "sorority of beauty winners", evident by five major title holders and numerous alternate titles, the scale is well balanced by the sorority's ranking highest among all sororities on campus with an overall grade average of 3.00.

AOPi leaders around campus include Indian annual staff members, Herald staff members, and officers in various clubs. Five AOPi's were named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

In addition to beauty, brains, and leadership qualities, the AOPi's are athletically inclined accounting for their eighth consecutive win for the Pike annual All-Greek Basketball Tourney.

But the honors of AOPi could go on and on and on . . .

Omicron Zeta Chapter of Chi Omega had a busy year. The National Treasurer, Mrs. L. W. Bowker visited the chapter in January and a tea was given in her honor for members of Panhellenic.

Omicron Zeta Chapter entertained two other groups at Arkansas State during the year. Members of the football team were guests of honor at a supper in the sorority suite in October. A party was given for the Sigma Pi fraternity which elected Carolyn Bratten their sweetheart.

The traditional White Symphony dinner was held in September for five pledges, and February for seventeen. The annual dance was a big event in early March with a South Pacific "Bali Chi" theme. On April first, the Founders' Day banquet was held.

Chi Omegas received many honors during the year. Joan Farrell and Bettye Holland were majorettes; Pat Sharp was a cheerleader, and Sandra Chailland had a solo part in "The Messiah." Sandra Blagg directed the Chi Omega entry in the Phi Mu Playhouse and took part in other dramatic productions. Peggy Hunter won honorable mention for a reading in the Alpha Gam Talent Show and a superior rating in poetry reading at a mid-south collegiate speech tournament. Vivian Dugger was a candidate for TKE Finger Bowl Queen.

Sally Lynn Dennis was selected Miss Arkansas State in March.

Six girls were elected to membership in Freshmen Women's Honorary Scholastic Organization. They are Melinda Burr, Kathy Wood, Peggy Hunter, Janna Helms, Sally Lynn Dennis and Mary Venda Wade.

Members of Chi Omega frequently entertain guests and alumnae in their beautifully decorated suite in University Hall.

PHI MU

EPSILON DELTA CHAPTER

Again this year Phi Mu has maintained her high place among the sororities on A-State's campus.

Bettye Dee Keith put the spotlight on Phi Mu when she reigned as the 1962 Homecoming Queen. A Phi Mu has received this honor for seven consecutive years.

Another highlight of the fall semester was the selection of Patricia Sulcer as Miss Merry Christmas, an honor held by a Phi Mu since its origination on the campus.

The versatility of Phi Mu is seen in the many areas of the campus. Paula Adams is a majorette with the Marching Indian band. Judy Hendrix is an ROTC honorary cadet; Jackie Shelby is a cheerleader; Julia Ann Oxner is vice president of Freshmen Women's Honorary, and Sandra Curtiss is a member of this organization. Jo Etta Shelby and Judy Hendrix are members of Alpha Sigma Upsilon.

Judy Hendrix is second vice president of SGA, and Carolyn Price, Jane Cato, and Jackie Shelby are SGA representatives.

Sue Maddux is Sig Ep Queen of Hearts, Patsy Wilson is sweetheart of FFA, Connie Whitehead is Miss Marianna, and Phyllis Rowden is Miss Jonesboro.

Two Phi Mu's, Jo Etta Shelby and Judy Hendrix, were named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Trudy Miles and Linda Watson teamed with Sigma Phi Epsilon to win the mixed bowling league tournament.

Phi Mu sponsored its annual Playhouse and participated in Songfest, Talent Show, Speechfest, and various other intramural activities.

Founded in Boston in 1909, Lambda Chi Alpha came to Arkansas State in the spring of 1958, becoming the fifth national fraternity on the campus.

Feeling that a college man's first obligation is scholarship, Lambda Chi Alpha has ranked first among campus fraternities since its beginning at Arkansas State. Iota-Theta Zeta also ranks first of all chapters of Lambda Chi Alpha in the nation, and for the past few years has ranked among the top twelve of all chapters of all national fraternities.

Service is another forte of Lambda Chi Alpha. The chapter continued to maintain its blood bank, donated food and toys at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and helped with the cancer and March of Dimes campaigns and other charitable projects.

Showing a high degree of campus participation, Lambda Chi Alpha was represented as presidents of campus organizations, in varsity athletics, student government, and among leaders in campus publications. Four were named to Who's Who in American Colleges.

Socially, Lambda Chi Alpha held several informal parties, the Crescent Ball and Founders' Day banquet, and supported all school social activities. Iota-Theta Zeta sponsored another highly successful Little 500 pushcart derby.

After winning first on campus in scholarship for six consecutive semesters, Lambda Chi Alpha was presented a permanent trophy by Robert Moore, Dean of Students, acting for the interfraternity council.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

DELTA THETA CHAPTER

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity celebrated its fifteenth year on campus during 1963. Dr. W. W. Nedrow, who was instrumental in getting Delta Theta its charter, continues as an integral part of the fraternity.

Delta Theta jumped into the PiKA national spotlight during the past year. Gaining third place in national scholarship ratings, the chapter also ranked ninth in general proficiency out of 118 chapters in the nation.

Members of Delta Theta formed a delegation to the first statewide Founders Day which was held February 23 in Little Rock.

On the A-State campus, Delta Theta held its usual place of prominence. Pikes took second in intramural football, homecoming displays, and copped honorable mention in the Alpha Gam talent show. PiKA also won the TKE Finger Bowl game. The chapter sponsored a highly successful Annual All-Greek Basketball Tournament, winning both A and B divisions.

Don Perkins and Ronald Volkman were named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Delta Theta closed out the year with numerous informal parties, the annual Parent's Day, and the chapter's annual highlight, the Dream Girl Dance.

ALPHA PI CHAPTER

Sigma Pi Fraternity came to Arkansas State College in the spring of 1948, being the first national fraternity on campus. The local chapter was formerly the local fraternity, Zeta Tau Zeta.

Since that time Sigma Pi has participated actively and regularly in all social events on the campus.

During this year Sigma Pi has actively participated in all intramural sports along with the Alpha Gamma Delta Talent Show, the Phi Mu Playhouse, the Alpha Omicron Pi Songfest, The Pike basketball tournament, the Sig Ep bowling tournament, and the Lambda Chi "Little 500," winning this event the last two years.

The fraternity is well represented in varsity athletics and Jim Dawson was appointed assistant basketball coach for the 1962-63 season.

The fraternity's spring formal, the Orchid Ball, was a huge success, as well as many other informal parties throughout the year.

"Not for wealth, rank, or honor, but for personal worth and character." These words signify the purpose of Arkansas State's Teke fraternity.

Since its beginning in 1949, these words have guided the activities and principles of Tau Kappa Epsilon on the A-State campus with a feeling that it is important for fraternity men to get as much out of college life as possible. The men of TKE place special emphasis on all of A-State's social activities and sports events. TKE placed first in the annual Phi Mu playhouse with its entry, "Afraid of the Dark."

In addition, TKE sponsors

the "Finger Bowl" football game, the second oldest bowl game in the nation.

Besides furthering the activities of Arkansas State, TKE also tries to become a part of Jonesboro. Each year TKE participates in the Goodfellows Christmas drive to help needy families.

It is the purpose of A-State's Teke fraternity to meet the high standards expected of fraternity

"Not for wealth, rank, or honor, but for personal worth and character;" these are important words to every Teke on the Arkansas State campus.

SECTION THREE

ATHLETICS

THIS IS THE YEAR THAT State joined four Texas schools in the Southland Conference. The football Indians slipped somewhat after five first-season victories, but still secured the best record in ten years.

Basketball was highlighted by two tournaments – the first Holiday Meet, won by Texas A&M, and the NCAA Regional, the Tribe's 14-10 record merited. Spring baseball and track were good too with veterans to lead the way in both sports.

I. A. "Ike" Tomlinson has been a major factor in the rapid growth of the athletic program of Arkansas State College. Coach Tomlinson has been with A-State all the way up the ladder, either as coach or as athletic director since 1943. Ike presently serves as baseball coach and athletic director.

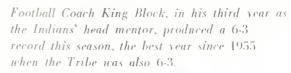

INGENUITY, WORK BY MEN ON ATHLETIC STAFF PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

Adjectives such as resourceful and hard working may be used to describe the men of the athletic staff who guided Arkansas State to one of its most successful sports years in recent history. Ending his seventeenth year as athletic director at A-State, J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson is one of the most dedicated men on the ASC campus. Ike coaches the baseball team along with his directive duties. Indian football coach King Block guided the Tribe to its best season in a decade this year. Block, however, willingly gives much of the credit for the success to his assistants Benny Ellender, J. L. Johnson, Wayne Armstrong and Bill Caldwell. In the basketball department John Rauth composes the entire coaching staff. Coach Rauth is in charge of basketball coaching, recruiting and organizing the freshman program. Coach John, nevertheless, guided the Indians to a winning season.

Head basketball coach John Rauth capably tutors his Big Red charges in the basketball knowledge and savvy he has gained in his 14 campaigns at A-State.

Vital to the success of the football Indians are the four coaches who assist King Block, Block's assistants are J. L. Johnson, Bill Caldwell, Benny Ellender and Wayne Armstrong.

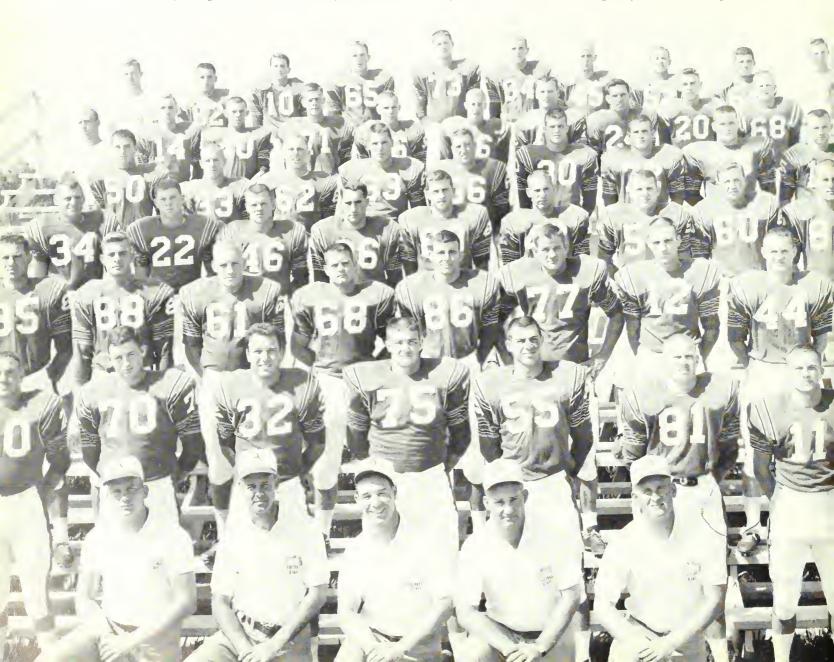

BIG RED COMPILES 6-3 RECORD IN TOUGH CAMPAIGN

Football at Arkansas State this season was the best in a decade. The Indians finished with a 6-3 record against some of the strongest small college and medium bracket opponents in the nation. The campaign could almost be broken into two halves. The first half the Tribe was unbeatable, winning the first five games, including victories over South Dakota State and The Citadel. The second half was a different matter as the Redskins lost to Murray, Tennessee Tech and giant Mississippi Southern. Quarterback Sammy Weir led the Big Red in total offense with 78 yards. Halfback Donnie Dunston had a sensational 42 yard kickoff return average. Fullback Dick Martillo set the pace in scoring with 42 points and in punting with an average of 49.6 yards.

BURNS' KICK LIFTS TRIBE OVER FAVORED JACKRABBITS, 9-7

Indian tackle and place kicker Jack Burns lofted a high, sailing field goal early in the third quarter and gave Arkansas State a 9-7 first game victory over the South Dakota State Jackrabbits. The Tribe won despite the fact that they were a 22 point underdog and that South Dakota State was dedicating a new $250,000 stadium before the South Dakota governor. Fullback Dick Martillo put the Redskins into the lead in the first half with a three yard plunge over right tackle. A-State led all the way with the Indian defense visciously shielding its goal line all afternoon. The Jackrabbits finally pushed across a marker with only 2:38 left in the game. The victors returned to Jonesboro to find over 500 elated fans greeting them as their plane touched down at the airport.

9 POINTS IN LAST SECONDS SHOCK FLORENCE 23-14

With the score Florence State 14, Arkansas State 14 and 22 seconds left on the scoreboard, Jack Burns split the uprights with his second decisive field goal in as many games for A-State. The Indians weren't through, however, and twelve seconds later Billy Joe Turner intercepted a pass and scampered for a touchdown. Final score: A-State 23, Florence 14. Again the Indian defense was stingy, allowing the Lions only 77 yards. The Indian running attack was also strong in grinding out 231 yards. Dick Martillo once again led the Indian ground game as he picked up 77 yards on 19 carries. Halfback Donnie Dunston gave the hardy Indian fans, making the trip to Florence, something to cheer about when he took a kickoff and ran it 86 yards to the Lion's two-yard line. Mashburn, Gore and Turner ran touchdowns for the Redskins.

ST. MARY 34-14; FIRST QUARTER SCORE 21-0

A capacity crowd of 7,000 turned out to see the unbeaten Indians battle St. Mary in their first game at Kays Field this season. The Tribe responded by soundly trouncing the Cavaliers 34-14, scoring three times in the first quarter. St. Mary did, however, win the toss—their only victory of the evening. State scored the first three times they had the football. Donnie Dunston plunged in from one yard out, and the Indians were off to the races. Martillo promptly dashed 32 yards on a draw play for a marker; followed shortly by a brilliant run by Ken Mashburn to make the score 21-0 with 3:27 still left in the first quarter. The remainder of the game was devoted to the seasoning of the reserves. Harold Wallin and Sam Weir added two more tallies later in the game.

CHOCTAWS PREPARE REDSKINS FOR THE CITADEL

Clearing their last hurdle before the big test against The Citadel, the Redmen chopped down Mississippi College 20-0. Early in the second quarter end Hassell McCain pounced on a Choctaw fumble on the Choctaw 22-yard line. Three plays later Dick Martillo plunged over left guard for the tally. Jack Burns booted the extra point. Just after the half, quarterback Sammy Weir sprinted around right end and outran the Choctaws for a 39-yard TD. Burns missed the extra point. A-State added another marker when linebacker Eddie Rickus intercepted a pass in the flats and streaked untouched 65 yards for the final touchdown. Burns' kick was good, making the score 20-0 with six minutes remaining. The Chocs threatened to score only twice due to Indian fumbles but could not capitalize either time.

CADETS CAN'T FIGHT OFF INDIANS' DETERMINATION FOR 5TH STRAIGHT WIN

Sammy Weir uncovered his previously silent passing arm with two touchdown passes in leading his team to a come-from-behind 14-7 victory over the Cadets of The Citadel. The Indians reached their peak against The Citadel, copping their fifth consecutive win and assuring them of the first winning season in the past five years. The Cadets scored in their first three plays, and it looked as if it would be a rout on this rainy, overcast day. The Indians would not disappoint the 7,000 who had turned out despite the weather; and the two Weir passes, one to Hassell McCain and the other to Bob McCuiston, turned the trick. The defensive unit saved the victory late in the game when they contained the Cadets inside the ASC seven-yard line.

STATE LOOKS TOO FAR AHEAD AND STUMBLES OVER MURRAY 14-9

The Indians were ready to be upset by Murray State. The game came right after a great victory and right before the imposing challenge of Mississippi Southern. A-State scored fast with Martillo crossing the wide stripe in the first five minutes of play. Moments later the Tribe was again knocking on the door only to fumble on the Thoroughbred one-yard line. This was the turning point in the game and possibly the turning point in the season. After the miscue it was all Murray. The Redskins could not contain the passing of Tony Fioravanti and fell to the Racers 14-9. Sammy Weir was the Indian's only bright spot. He compiled 194 total yards, 114 rushing and 80 passing. State scored a safety late in the game when a snap sailed over a punter's head.

SOUTHERN, BEHIND AT THE HALF, PULL AWAY TO CLOUD HOMECOMING

Mississippi Southern posed the sternest test of the season for the Indians and cast a cloud over the Homecoming festivities by downing A-State 20-7. The Tribe, nevertheless, dominated the first half of play, but in the second half the under-weight Indians couldn't go against the bully-boy Southerners. Southern led 6-0 after the first quarter. In the second stanza the Redskins staged a 53 yard drive with Martillo going in for the marker. Burns converted and A-State carried a 7-6 lead into the dressing room at the half. The Mississippi weight advantage paid off in the last half as the Southerners, the number two ranked small college team in the nation, whipped the Indians with two touchdowns after two State miscues.

A-State, heavily favored over the 1-7 Eagles, scored two quick touchdowns in the first half, but the beginning of their downfall came when Tech scored their first TD right before the half. The Eagles completely dominated the second half and plucked the victory from the hands of the Indians. Martillo scrambled three yards for the first ASC touchdown. Lanky freshman Harold Wallin took a Sammy Weir pass in the first quarter and scampered 33 yards for the TD. In the following quarter, Jack Burns booted a field goal, giving A-State a 10-0 half time lead. Ronnie Allen set the last Indian touchdown when he intercepted a pass. Ken Mashburn swept left end moments later for the marker, and Weir hit senior end Hassell McCain in the end zone for the two pointer. The final gun sounded, ending the game and the college playing careers for six outstanding seniors, Dick Martillo, Billy Joe Turner, Donnie Dunston, Hassell McCain, Jack Burns, and Clinton Gore.

HOLIDAY TOURNEY HIGHLIGHTS BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

A-State's basketball picture was bright this year with eight of ten regular squadmen returning from the 1962 team which went to the finals of the NCAA Southwest Regional Tournament. One All-Tournament performer, Don Shatley, returning to the Indian fold along with Gaylon Ward, Jerry Rook, Harold Callahan, Jerry Hudgins, Gary Holland, and Ollie Yates. Three major universities were invited to the first annual Arkansas State Invitational Holiday Tournament December 28 and 29. Invited to the meet were Texas A and M, Virginia University and Tulane. The Tribe downed New Mexico State in the first game of the season but fell before powerful Southeast Missouri and Murray State in their next two outings. Indian Field House was further improved, receiving a new coat of paint inside and out.

Indians smooth machine in season opener

BEGINNING WIN NEUTRALIZED BY SEMO, MURRAY, SAVAGES

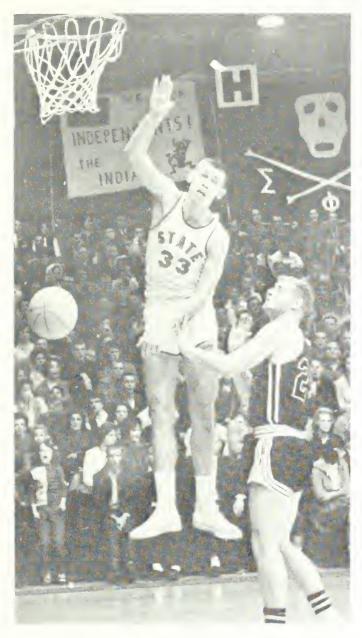

Arkansas State's basketball Indians displayed well-drilled form in their 84-74 first game win over New Mexico State but gained only one victory in the next four games with Southeast Missouri, Murray State and a two game stand with Southeast Oklahoma. The Tribe was a well-oiled machine against the New Mexico Aggies, hitting 45.7 per cent before 5,000 first game fans. State had Don Shatley, Gaylon Ward, Jerry Hudgins and Harold Callahan in double figures. On the road for the first time, the Big Red saw a 40-37 first half lead dwindle as Southeast Missouri spurted to a 90-81 conquest. Later in the week ASC met the Murray State Racers at Murray. The Kentuckians were adamant this night in a 94-76 victory. Jerry Hudgins raced down the court against Southeast Oklahoma and sank a hook shot with only seconds to go which gave the Indians a 62-60 victory. The Oklahoma Savages took revenge the next night, however, by a 70-47 margin.

INDIANS SPARKLE IN NEXT THREE HARDWOOD OUTINGS

Panhandle A&M, Louisianans, Miners fall

Sparkling performances were handed in by all of coach John Rauth's Indians as they carried off three early season victories over Missouri Mines 83-65, Northeast Louisiana 67-60, and Panhandle A&M 61-59. Some Excellent team play highlighted all three victories as the Redmen rose to fulfill pre-season expectations. Jerry Rook was the decisive factor in the Tribe's wins over the Miners and the Louisianans as he scorched the cords for 32 and 31 points respectively. A-State suffered from "dead spots" during almost all its early games this season, and the tilt against the Miners was no exception. The Redmen could mesh only 36 per cent of their shots from the field against Missouri. The Tribe caught NE Louisiana on a bad night, and the snakebit bayou boys couldn't buy a basket. The Indians came from behind to knock off the Louisianans, and got good play from Indian guards Callahan and Shatley to edge out the boys from the Panhandle.

Time-out is taken by the Indians as coach Rauth relinquishes his seat to his boys while he instructs in a strategy change.

Texas A&M, a contender for the Southwest Conference title this year, took top honors in Arkansas State's first annual Holiday Tournament. A-State captured third place. The Aggies downed Tulane 67-53, and Virginia bested the Indians 94-74 to gain the finals. The Tribe came back to take Tulane 84-71, and A&M clipped Virginia 60-59 to cop the title. The basketball displayed in the tourney was tops. The meet allowed local fans to view teams from three major conferences, and performances by individuals such as Bennie Lennox of Texas A&M and Gaylon Ward of ASC, among many others, awed the crowd on several occasions.

Junior transfer Mike Dungan was the big surprise as he scored nine points and stole the ball several times from the opponents. A-State put on a dazzling exhibition of the full-court press to make the opponents lose control of the ball, but just couldn't hold on, and the Governors of Austin Peay defeated the Tribe 75-71 in overtime. Once again Jerry Rook was the leading scorer with 24 points. This loss pulled the Tribe's record to 6-7.

Murray flew out in front of ASC in the first minutes of play, jumping to a 19-7 lead: but the Tribe kept chipping away until they pulled ahead in the second half. The game was spiced with a brief skirmish between players after the Big Red had pulled away from the major ranked Racers. Defense was a prime factor in the victory as State switched and scrambled to arrest the powerful Murray offense. These victories avenged two earlier losses to Murray and Southeast.

Flashy offensive play and a gluelike defense carried the Indians safely past neighborhood rival, Christian Brothers College of Memphis, 71-49. Jerry Hudgins turned in his finest performance of the season, leading a well-balanced scoring attack with 15 points. A 25-foot jump shot with two seconds on the clock boosted Delta State past the Tribe 55-53. Jerry Rook knotted the tally at 53-53 with 10 seconds remaining in the contest, then Delta brought the ball down court and knocked the bottom out of the basket to dump the Indians. It took two overtimes, but the relentless Redmen tripped the fast-moving Austin Peay squad 101-94 with a tremendous last-second flurry of scoring. The victory was the fifth straight for the rejuvenated Redskins. Don Shatley and Rook paced the Tribe in scoring, Rook ripping the cords for 20; and Shatley getting 18.

A new coach and five lettermen from the squad which set nine new track marks last spring form the nucleus of the 1963 edition of the Arkansas State track and field team. Knowing only what he had read about the team, coach Wayne Armstrong had little idea about what to expect from his team. He came to ASC from Memphis, and took over the track reigns with an assistant football coaching job. Returning record breakers are Sammy Weir, Stanley Nelson, Bill Carrothers, Dave Chandler, and Sonny Bishop. Weir set the standard in the hundred yard dash at 9.7. Nelson holds a 2:02:1 half mile mark, Carrothers the two mile at 10:17:1, and Chandler the mile at 4:32:2. Bishop set the record in the pole vault with a leap of 12 feet.

Last spring Sonny Bishop, here running down the track to vault, established a new ASC high in the pole vault when he cleared 12 feet.

The bar is raised one more notch by Indian high jumper Hirthel Welker. The freshman from Poplar Bluff, Mo. is jumping around six feet and is expected to go higher.

THIS IS THE YEAR THAT

Arkansas State College started a building boom. Students moved into two new dormitories-Arkansas Hall for men, University Hall for women. Lewis and Barnhart Halls were seen no more, and the tennis courts were gone, but the campus resounded with noises of the cranes and cement mixers working on the library and student union. With a present enrollment of 3313, and a predicted enrollment of 7000 by 1972, A-State is preparing to meet the challenge.

PRESIDENT CARL R. RENG--HEADING A-STATE'S PLAN FOR PROGRESS

Dr. Carl R. Reng, President of Arkansas State College, has served in this capacity for twelve years. Under his leadership, the College has made outstanding progress in all areas. When Dr. Reng took over the reins of leadership, the College had a total enrollment of 1248 students, housed in four men's and two women's dormitories. Since that time, the enrollment has jumped to 3400, and five dorms have been added to the campus. In addition to these buildings, the Physical Education Building has been completely remodeled, a National Guard Armory has been built, a modern new field house has been added to the campus, and a new library and multi-million dollar student union are rapidly nearing completion.

Dr. Reng has learned to progress through experience. Before coming to ASC, he served in the Navy V-12 College Training Program, and worked his way from a high school coach and principal to a superintendent of schools to a faculty position at the University of Arkansas. He became president of Arkansas State College in May of 1951.

Dr. Eugene Smith Assistant to the President

Meeting and entertaining visiting dignitaries such as Senator J. William Fulbright is one of the duties performed by Dr. Reng as president of the college.

As a Christmas gift, members of the administration presented Dr. Reng with a beautiful western saddle. Making the presentation was King Block, who, in addition to being head football coach, is an avid horseman.

Dr. N. D. Hazelbaker is Vice President in Charge of Instruction. Working under the general direction of the President of the College, he is responsible for the development and administration of the curriculum and instructional program. Dr. Hazelbaker has served as Vice President since 1953.

THE ADMINISTRATION

As Vice President in Charge of Business and Purchasing, Mr. L. Cameron assists the President in the preparation of the overall budget of the College. In addition to this major duty, Mr. Cameron's responsibilities include acting as custodial and disbursing officer for College funds. He has been at Arkansas State College since 1951.

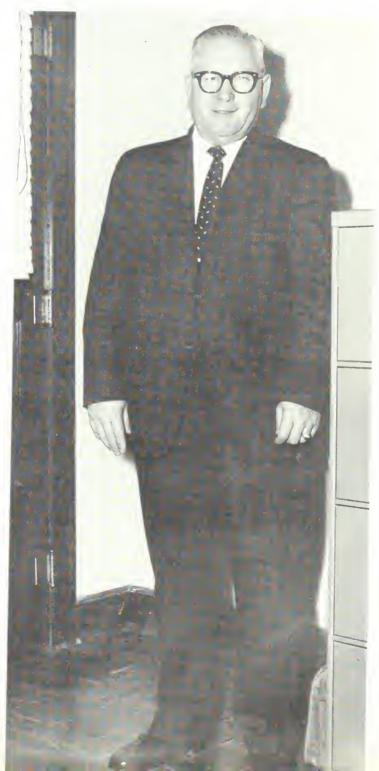

FOCUSING THE OVERALL PICTURE

As Dean of Students, Mr. Robert Moore is a friend and willing counsel for every student on the Arkansas State campus. His duties are varied and deal with all phases of campus life. Dean Moore has served the college and its students since 1949, when he came to A-State as Dean of Men.

Mr. Ray Hall is Director of Field Services for Arkansas State College. In his major responsibility of directing public relations, he cooperates with all agencies and departments of the college in developing a satisfactory public relations program. Mr. Hall has been at ASC since 1951.

To cultivate skills in progressive farm management

Dr. Olen P. Nail Head of the Department of Agriculture

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Agricultural program at A-State is designed to give thorough preparation in the science and practices of agriculture and to provide a practical general education. The college farm is well equipped with buildings, livestock, and machinery for instructional purposes. Arkansas State is fully approved by the U.S. Office of Education as an agriculture teacher-training institution.

To orient the student with modern trade techniques

Dr. K. E. Lucas

Head of the Department of Business and Economics

Professional Business leaders are a great source for knowledge that will be helpful to students of business.

Accounting is one of the areas of study offered in the Department of Business and Economics at Arkansas State

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

Business Education is a program of study to prepare teachers of business for the secondary schools. The Business Administration program is general and, where possible, tailored to the vocational ambitions of the students. Students majoring in Accounting are qualified to accept positions with public accounting firms, the Federal Government, or accounting departments of business and industrial firms.

To enable those who know to transmit their knowledge

Dr. Ray Simpson

Acting Head of the Department of Education and Psychology

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

All programs offered in this department insure broad general education, specialized scholarship, and professional competence. Some of the major objectives of teacher education are: (1) to understand and appreciate the culture in which we live and the changes in that culture in historical perspective, (2) to develop sound scholarship and a continuing interest in the area to be taught, (3) to understand and be able to work with children and adults.

Jim Hudson, a piano major in the music division, knows that many hours of diligent practice are required for proficiency on one's major instrument.

Students study under personnel with a broad background of instruction and performance, such as Harold Worman, woodwind instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS

Music and Art have long played an important part in all civilizations. In this modern day there is a greater opportunity for students to develop a sensitive visual consciousness of good design and beauty. There is also a need to develop listening skills which will make great music an ever growing and meaningful part of daily living. Toward these goals the department provides general classes as a part of the basic education program.

L. W. "Tex" Plunkett

Head of the Department of Journalism, Radio, and Printing

DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM

The prescribed studies in general education and the professional work in the Department of Journalism, Printing, and Radio have four major purposes. These are to provide the cultural training that adults should possess; to train young men and women in the many phases of journalism; to present current journalistic problems in view of their origin and development; to provide the background for research that will increase knowledge about the field.

To lend an insight into great work and philosophy

Dr. O. F. White Head of the Department of Languages and Literature

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE

The Department of Languages and Literature provides training in communication skills and contact with the liberating influences of the humanities. The courses offered in the field of English are designed to promote the effective use of oral and written English; to encourage selective and interpretative reading, to increase the capacity of understanding and appreciating the classics, the humanities, and the fine arts.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE

It is the duty of the members of this department to counsel, advise, and assist each student majoring in science and to encourage him to seek such counseling and advice. Students in today's world need to develop fundamental and scientific concepts, and to develop skill in seeking and using these concepts. Students will find the department's curricula rich in experiences that will contribute to their cultural development and general knowledge.

ARKANSAS STATE PLAYED WELL IN NCAA

Arkansas State received their second NCAA invitation in two years and lost a thriller to Lamar Tech at Cape Girardeau. Although A-State players were glum, they perked up when they saw SE Missouri lose their game. ASC, in the consolation game, downed SEMo to put them fourth in their own tournament.

Indian defense was great against Lamar Tech as Callahan, Hudgins, Ward and Shatley converge on the ball.

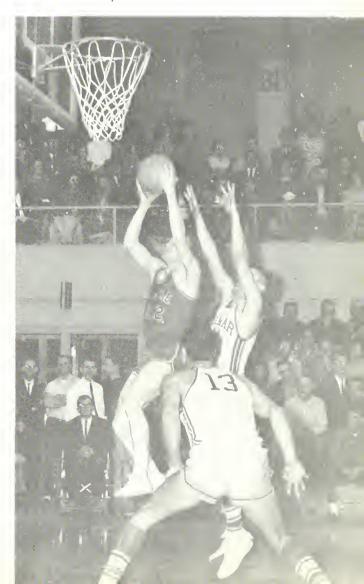

"Did you blow that whistle again, Ref?"

Shatley's familiar style is apparent as he hits a jump shot from the edge of the keyhole.

Shatley tallies two of his 27 points.

Radio and press personnel feast at banquet Saturday noon. Eating a large portion of chicken is Thompson,
Manning and Rasberry.
Later that afternoon
Coach John Rauth appeared on TV....

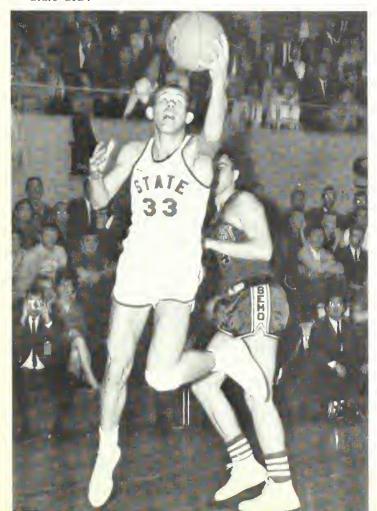

... and listened to the other coaches make excuses. Broadcasters pay for the meal they had earlier as they pour it on during the A-State-SE Missouri game.

Rook makes two against SEMo as Shatley concentrates to keep the ball on course.

Ward fakes Giessing and lays one up. Gentleman in left background with a camera face is Manning, A-State SID.

You kick him out of the way and then take to the air — Callahan style.

A-State players are happy; they won. SEMo lost, SEMo fans are unhappy. Color the SEMo fans Blue.

ARKANSAS STATE DOWNS CAPE; ROOK CHOSEN MOST VALUABLE

Jerry Rook (upper right) was selected the tournament's most valuable player. Henry and Henley of Southern Illinois and Augsburger and Smith of Lamar Tech were on the all-tournament team.

Shatley and Crosley have that Pepsodent smile after winning third place.

A-State Indians line up to receive third place medals. At far left, Bob Yates, standing in for ailing Rauth. keeps an eye on the medals to see that no one gets two.

JOHN RAUTH RETIRES AFTER COACHING 14 YEARS

Head basketball coach John Rauth retired from the coaching profession after taking his team to another NCAA regional tournament. This year Rauth completed his ninth winning season as compared to four losing seasons and one even year. John came to Arkansas State in 1947 as assistant in basketball to J. A. Tomlinson. He became head coach in 1949. Before coming to A-State he coached in Wayne City, DuQuion and Harrisburg, Illinois schools. All tolled he has been in the coaching field for the past 28 years. Fans will remember him for his outstanding coaching ability and his colorful antics. John will remain with A-State as assistant professor of physical education.

ARKANSAS STATE JOINS NEW ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Arkansas State College took the big step in March as they joined with four Texas schools to form a new athletic conference. The schools include Lamar Tech of Beaumont, Arlington State of Arlington, Abilene Christian of Abilene, and Trinity University of San Antonio.

The presidents of the schools laid the foundation for the conference March 15 and the name of the conference, rules and bylaws were determined at a meeting held in April.

The new conference will require participation by all members in the major sports of football, basketball, and track. Participation in basebball, tennis, golf and other minor sports will be optional.

Dr. Reng, A-State president, indicated that scheduling will begin with all due speed and it is expected the conference will be in full swing with regard to the required major sports by 1965.

The new athletic conference will be under the control of faculty athletic committees in each school and the regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

IN RETROSPECT

Looking back is something we will always do, especially upon the years we spent as students at Arkansas State. This has been only one of those years, but for many of us it has been one of the greatest. Now, before I become too nostalgic, I'd like to give credit to the staff for a job well done.

Barkley, you are to be commended for your dependability and willingness to work. You ungrudgingly gave of your time to see that copy for the '63 Indian was done on time. I'm grateful for your great effort and for the fact that you could go into the women's dorm and get the girls to staff meetings when, because of some silly rule, I couldn't.

Donna Calvert and Charlotte Haynes had to leave us at semester for practice teaching, but the work they did during the all important first semester with classes and organizations certainly filled a substantial portion of the great chasm that lay ahead of us. Anne Parker did a great job on the class section and I remember her as the first to volunteer to work late when it looked as if the section might not be done on time.

CROW

Much of the credit for the '63 Indian goes to Wendell Crow. You, Crow, were always there til the end when the all-night work sessions were necessary. I'm grateful for your good natured spirit to tough it out with me when things looked bad, and for those never ceasing wisecracks and comical antics that were hilarious at four in the morning. If you'll permit me to use one of your own descriptive terms, you're a "Wonder Winner."

PHIL

One of the hardest working persons on the staff was Janis Goldsmith. She constructively depreciated several typewriters, and if something needed to be done in a hurry, Jan was the one for that job.

The photography for the '63 Indian is an example of the professional ability of my roommate, Phil Pickle. Phil, you were probably one of the most searched for, and least available man on the campus, mainly because you were always on the go to record events for the yearbook and then spend the whole night in the darkroom printing pictures for the impending deadline. I'm also grateful for your electronic alarm systems, and the last resort well-placed foot that got me to my eight o'clock class after being up all night.

том

I hardly see how we did without Bill Winter before he joined us at the end of the first semester. But for his photography and seemingly never-ending darkroom work, many of the events covered in the yearbook would not be there.

I was fortunate to have two former high school editors. Jim Pardew and Randall Caldwell, as sports editors. The sports section was one I never worried about until it came time to proof read, and I express my thanks for the new ideas and talent these fellows donated to the '63 Indian. It was a great job.

Tom Manning. you're probably the busiest man on the A-State campus, Nevertheless, your concern for the success of the yearbook was the greatest of any advisor in recent years. When deadlines were nearing and the staff seemed apathetic, you were always there to push the panic button. Your coverage of the NCAA tournament and other contributions to this year's book were lifesavers. Thanks, Tom, and good luck with the next editor.

Thanks now to all who were connected with the '63 Indian, to Dean Moore and his secretaries, and the entire student body.

Seniors, this was our last one, but being an A-State alum is the next best thing to being a student here. So much for retrospect; now we're prepared to face the future.
